

ABOUT OUR PROVIDERS

Our providers combine extensive training and diverse public health backgrounds to deliver exceptional care in a welcoming environment. With expertise in reproductive health and preventative medicine, our team excels at creating comfortable spaces for discussing sensitive concerns. We're committed to ensuring every patient receives personalized attention, thorough education, and respectful treatment throughout their healthcare journey.

Allie is a registered nurse with 10+ years of experience in public health. She's all about helping people understand their health and giving them the tools to make smart choices. Allie strives to create a judgment-free space where people can feel comfortable talking about their health. She's passionate about making sure everyone has access to the care they need, especially when it comes to reproductive health. Born and raised in Chippewa Falls, Allie loves serving the community she calls home. She is committed to making her community healthier and better for everyone. When she's not working, Allie loves hanging out with her family, going outdoors, reading, and sipping a latte.

Jennifer is a dedicated registered nurse with 15+ years of experience in public health nursing. Passionate about preventative health, she believes in the importance of planning for ongoing well-being. Jennifer is committed to providing patient-centered care through active listening and collaboration, ensuring that each patient receives the education, support, and compassion they need. She has also been instrumental in developing and expanding the reproductive health program, increasing access to essential services for members of the community. Outside of her professional life, Jennifer enjoys spending time with her family, supporting her children's various activities, and embracing the outdoors.

Rachel has 10+ years of experience as a Registered Nurse in Public Health. Rachel aims to maximize the knowledge, health care access and resources for everyone regarding reproductive health services. She strives for all to have reproductive well-being. She is passionate about providing quality care while remaining mindful of individual preferences and needs. Outside of work, she loves being a wife, a mother to four children. Her family stays busy with school sporting events, outdoor activities, exploring in her collector car, a Mustang named Sally, and family gatherings. She loves all things nature and being active.

Abby serves as the primary Nurse Practitioner in the reproductive health clinic, bringing 2 years of practice in this role along with a decade of public health experience, including 7 years specifically in reproductive health. Her extensive background enables her to provide comprehensive care to patients with diverse needs. Outside of her professional life, she enjoyed playing rugby for 5 years.

Tabitha is an experienced intake nurse with 5+ years in Community Health. She warmly welcomes patients to our department, specializing in public health education with expertise in communicable diseases and sexual health. Her approachable manner creates a judgment-free environment for open discussion of health concerns, making her invaluable to our team.
